

Wild Rose Vet with Dr. Savannah Season 2 – Episode synopses

EP. 1 – PIGS N’ NEEDLES

Dr. Savannah and the rest of the crew at Rocky Rapids are back to take care of rural Alberta’s pets! A turtle named Knuckles needs help with some shell issues, a pig named Missy has a bad case of the flu, and a pup name Siv needs emergency surgery after a run-in with an angry porcupine. “If you truly want variety in your life, a mixed animal practitioner is definitely the way to go!”

EP. 2 – COWBOYS AND REPTILES

A pregnant dog named Bella needs an emergency C-section before she loses her pup, a giant Tegus lizard is uncharacteristically lethargic, and Dr. Savannah joins Dayle at the annual Drayton Valley Rodeo where Dayle is the vet on call.

EP. 3 – IT TAKES A VILLAGE

A defenestrated kitty needs a new home, a cat named Bella has mouth issues which may or may not be cancer, and Dr. Savannah takes a trip to the Siksika first nation to run a spay/neuter clinic to help control the pet population.

EP. 4 – TECHNO-VET

A cat named Louis requires major leg surgery, a Kunekune pig named Crumbfoot needs emergency X-rays, and Savannah heads out on the land to conduct a wild horse study, looking at how horses treat their own parasites through a process known as Zoopharmacognosy.

EP. 5 – MENTOR ME THIS

A guinea pig named JT has a life-threatening tooth issue, a duck named Dick has a septic joint that needs cleaning, and Savannah and Dayle head to La Ronge, SK. where Dayle speaks to a class of high schoolers and Savannah mentors the next generation of veterinarians.

EP. 6 – A DEFT TOUCH

An elderly dog named Layne needs tests to see if she’s stable enough for surgery, a cow suffers from a prolapsed uterus, and Lil shows up with a couple of creatures that need the team’s help before they can be released back into the wild.

EP. 7 – TALKING TO ANIMALS

A cat named Lovebug requires emergency surgery after being shot in the leg, a Pomeranian named Cheeka has a bad cough, and Savannah and Dayle take a trip to learn some horse-handling skills from a well-known Métis expert.

EP. 8 – VET TECHS

We learn all about the ever-important job of Vet Techs as Brooke assists a dog named Charlie who was injured in dogfight, and Savannah treats an elderly dog who was kicked by a horse.

Brooke and Savannah then head to Sturgeon Lake for the community's first ever spay and neuter clinic.

EP. 9 – IN CASE OF EMERGENCY...

A farm dog named Wrangler was runover by a tractor, a foal named Missy ripped her eyelid on a barbed wire fence, and Savannah heads to the Enoch Cree Nation to run an emergency Parvo clinic where she vaccinates local dogs against a recent outbreak of the deadly disease.

EP. 10 – WILD ROSE VETS

Dr. Dayle treats an adorable mini pony named Daisy who's got a strange growth on her face and helps a mama cow during a difficult calving. Meanwhile, Savannah must work to diagnose a dog named Bernadette who has stopped eating due to chronic pain.

EP. 11 – NINE LIVES

The kitties are coming! A housecat named Smoky is at risk of diabetes and a barn cat named Ashes is in rough shape after being hit by a car. Savannah heads out with the Canadian Animal Task Force to round up, spay/neuter, and release dozens of feral cats from a neighbouring village.

EP. 12 – THE COST OF LOVE

A dental surgery goes from one tooth to nine teeth for a pair of unsuspecting dog owners, Savannah must investigate to figure out why a ferret named Sophie has stopped peeing, and an adorable bunny needs intervention to stop him biting at his sutures. Oh, and there's a bat loose in the clinic.

EP. 13 – OLD DOGS, NEW TRICKS

An elderly dog named Freddie has a rare form of cancer that requires quick intervention, a barn cat named Suzie needs help to feed her kittens, and Savannah heads to Back to Batoche – the largest Métis festival in the world.
