

Shawn Cuthand is a nehiyaw (Cree) and Kanien'kehá:ka (Mohawk) writer, comedian, producer, actor and director living in so called Saskatoon on Treaty 6 territory. Currently he is a part of the satirical news group The Feather, where he has on screen roles as well as behind the scenes writing and producing roles. The Feather recently won the APTN/ImagineNative web series pitch competition and spent 2022 professionally producing their series from conception to final edits. It will premiere on APTN Lumi in 2023.

Being a part of The Feather series in the role of a "news anchor", he has garnered attention of theatre organizations such as the Gordon Tootoosis Nikawinan Theatre's (GTNT) A Rez Xmas series for two years in a row playing multiple roles. He has also done voice acting in an audio play released by Burnt Thicket Theatre and GTNT called Remnance. Through these opportunities, Shawn continues to build his acting skills and portfolio.

Shawn has also written articles for CBC online as well as being a part of the Indigenous Cities project for the National Arts Centre where he retold a story from his uncle John Cuthand. He currently sits on the board of directors for PAVED Arts for three years as well.

Shawn has been doing stand up comedy for 5 years and it is a major passion of his. He has performed at the Winnipeg fringe, Woke Comedy hour, Laughter is Medicine and made it to the finals of Edmonton's Grindstone Comedy Competition in 2021. The past 2 years he has had a major focus on hosting a fringe show in Saskatoon for stand up comedy with Danny Knight as cohost called The Funny Bone Schmomedy Zone. The show received 4 stars in 2021 and was at the Broadway Theatre in 2022.

Currently he is focused on The Feather Entertainment releasing their first major series on a streaming platform and building the brand with the team.
